Merci. anonymous_: ils ne parlent jamais francais, s'il s'agit de particuliers, et il faut se placer devant un ordinateur, pas devant une tache
We're living in the 21st century, wols :) And if we talk about software development, yes, we should be using our programs... lol jessarc: an ex-gentoo user wrote: "don't use gentoo, it's outdated and very time-consuming" to someone asking how to compile a program I can't follow that. if the gentoo user likes what he got, then it's no problem anonymous_: your suggestion is simply rude and does not help. if you really want help you need to provide good information but i can connect from client so my networking is fine wols: btw, I love you. when my server is off i can not browse anonymous_: and is it still when you run the program? or does it not work for you? But I'm not leaving :) I'm just rebooting to Debian because I have to start using the VGA out that I bought anonymous_: I didn't ask you about browsers for the server yes ok jessarc: good luck with that... when my server is off anonymous_: you are not answering my questions 82157476af
